Programme at a Glance

This strategic 2-day master class consists of 4 modules to capacitate DEIB Executives to engineer sustainable DEIB shifts – both systemic and cultural – in their organisational DNA.

Module 1: DEIB Foundations – Definitions, Context, Business Case, and Emerging Trends

This module provides a foundational exploration of DEIB, equipping leaders with the knowledge and strategic insight needed to drive meaningful change. Participants will unpack key DEIB concepts and terminology, analyse national and global trends, and explore historical and contemporary barriers to inclusion. The session delves into the business case for DEIB - integrating legislative, ethical, economic, and relational perspectives. Emerging themes such as Diversity of Thought, Psychological Safety, Intersectionality 2.0, ESG alignment, Global and Cultural Competency, Neurodiversity, Mental Health, and AI-driven DEIB strategies will be explored, ensuring organizations remain at the forefront of inclusive transformation.

Module 2: Strategic DEIB Transformation Framework and Methodology

This module provides an Integrated DEIB framework to achieve sustainable transformation. It explores the architecture of systemic and cultural change, addressing both the hard organisational elements (strategic blueprint, procedural alignment, and supportive structures/systems/facilities) and the soft cultural elements (mobilised leadership, capacitated employees, and sustainable citizenship/entrenched culture). The master class emphasises several interventions key to enabling sustainable change, such as stakeholder mapping, effective management of Employee Resource Groups, the fostering of DEIB champions/ambassadors, the use of Micro-learning Moments and Community Conversations, the creation of accountability systems, and regenerative communication practices. This module provide executives with a blueprint for strategic DEIB change and transformation.

Module 3: Data Driven DEIB: Auditing and Assessments

This module equips executives with the tools and methodologies needed to evaluate and measure DEIB progress within their organisations. It provides a structured approach to conducting DEIB Gap Analyses, identifying strengths, opportunities, and areas for improvement. Participants are introduced to a range of auditing techniques (quantitative and qualitative) and assessment tools to examine structural, policy, and informal DEIB barriers, identify the lived experiences of employee groups, and gauge the organisational culture. Additionally, the module address issues around data processing, transparency, reporting, and accountability.

Module 4: The Psychology of Sustainable DEIB Shifts

The final module uses a range of psychological frameworks, processes, and principles to capacitate executives to drive deep and lasting DEIB transformation on an individual, group and organisational level. The module explores the neuroscience of bias, privilege, resistance, and social conditioning, and indicates how neuroplasticity and -agility can practically be incorporated to fostering inclusive environments. Frameworks such as the Head, Hand, and Heart (H3) model, the Inside-Out Development Process, The 4-Up (Waking Up, Growing Up, Cleaning Up, and Showing Up) Journey, Developing PowerSkills, Allyship and Upstander Culture and the Psycho-Social Maturity Continuum are utilised to create consciousness and practically structure developmental interventions.
